

Death List In Hospital Gas Horror Reaches 120

Cleveland Disaster Might Have Been Averted, Say Fire Wardens Who Find Fire Door Leading from X-Ray Room Where First Explosion Occurred Had Been Left Open—Little Hope for Surviving Victims.

Cleveland, O., May 16 (P).—Survivors of the double explosion and poisonous gas at the Cleveland clinic, estimated at 40 or more, lay today waiting for death.

The number of dead, police and physicians predicted, would increase by half that number. This afternoon an even 120 had died.

Physicians at the hospitals where those who escaped yesterday were under treatment said there was little hope for them. The gas had attacked the blood, they said, slowly destroying red corpuscles and bringing death nearer as it worked.

The fire door leading from the X-ray room in the Cleveland clinic, where the first explosion occurred yesterday, had been left open, state fire wardens investigating the tragedy announced today.

The warden's statement read: "The fire door leading to the room where the celluloid X-ray plates were stored and where the first explosion occurred, had been left open. If this door had been closed the disaster might have been averted."

Coroner A. J. Pearce announced that blood tests of victims of the Cleveland clinic explosion showed death was caused by inhalation of hydrocyanic acid gas and bromine gas, both of which were present in large quantities.

Six physicians, four nurses and eight other employees of the Cleveland clinic were listed among the dead.

Addresses of Dead Unknown. Also in the list of dead was Mrs. Joseph Frank Dunkirk, N. Y., and those persons whose addresses were unknown: Mrs. Julia Leuba, Miss Mito Primo, A. Dr. Vandusen, Miss Porter, M. R. Shaw and Miss Altro Schreiber.

One woman has not been identified.

Six investigations of the explosion and fire at the Cleveland clinic yesterday were under way today with the cause of the blast still a mystery.

Victims Compared to Gassed Soldiers. The victims were compared to the "walking gas cases" of the World War—gassed soldiers who withstood the horrors of the poison for a few days and then fell over dead.

Some of the survivors were patients, nurses and doctors at the clinic. Others were firemen and policemen who risked their lives in the bodies, yellow smoke to remove the bodies. Some were volunteers who had worked feverishly with them. Physicians said most of them had but little chance for their lives.

The impossibility of nourishing the blood against the attacks of the gas points to death in the more serious cases, the physicians declared. Administration of oxygen and blood transfusions already have failed in some instances.

Collapsed After Reaching Home. Such a case was that of Dr. John Phillips, one of the founders of the clinic. Two tanks of oxygen were used but he collapsed after walking some distance to his home from the clinic. This recourse having failed, Dr. George W. Crile, co-founder and head of the clinic, performed a blood transfusion upon his colleague.

In spite of everything that could be done for him he died.

Six similar cases were recorded at Mount Sinai Hospital last night, three of them victims who had left the charred clinic with no apparent effects of the noxious fumes. One was Miss Ella Moeller, stenographer at the clinic, who jumped from a window and went home, believing she was untouched.

Laughed and Talked, Then Collapsed. Later she felt ill and went to Mt. Sinai. She laughed and talked while waiting for treatment and then collapsed. A blood transfusion was ordered with the hope that what seemed the inevitable might be averted.

The other two patients were a fireman and a woman who entered the clinic just as the first blast occurred. She got a whiff of the gas, returned to her home thankful to have escaped death, and then felt the ominous effects of the fatal fumes. All three underwent blood transfusions.

Fatal Results May Be Delayed. Physicians said that although all of the victims may not die, many seemed certain to succumb eventually. The fatal results of inhaling the gas might be delayed for hours, perhaps longer, they said, but slowly the red blood corpuscles might combine with carbon monoxide instead of oxygen. And the end be inevitable.

Doctor Identifies Gas. The gas was identified by Dr. William E. Lower, one of the chiefs of the clinic, as nitrous peroxide, released by burning X-ray film. The celluloid preparation was fired in an

Yellow Smudge Snuffed Lives in Cleveland Clinic

Deadly Gas Enveloped Those in Hospital and Left Them Choking Screaming and Fighting for Air—Death Came Quickly to Many of Them.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 16 (P).—A shastly yellow smudge snuffed out the lives of most of the victims of the Cleveland Clinic Hospital disaster.

On the walls, the sheets of coats, on the blankets once white which lay on doctor's desks, the windows—everywhere in the interior of the building was the yellowish blot left by the deadly gas which enveloped its victims and left them choking, screaming and fighting for air.

Many persons were sitting by the dental room near the elevator waiting for their appointments when the yellow clouds of poison came billowing toward them. Soon they were choking from the deadly fumes.

They clutched their throats and gasped for air, but there was only the suffocating odor. Fighting, screaming, they tried to get out of the elevator door. But there was no one to answer their call.

Bodies Piled Against Elevator Door. Their bodies were found piled against the elevator door. As if mad, they had beaten and kicked at the door. The glass of the slide guarding the shaft had been partly broken, seemingly in a vain hope there might be air in the shaft.

Firemen who carried their bodies out discovered them pitched toward the elevator door, many of them having died in convulsions helpless to escape the yellow gas which shrouded them.

Others—sixteen of them—got as far as the landing on the third floor before they met the wall of fumes which seeped into every corner of the building. Firemen found them, too, sprawled in grotesque positions and carried them out, some of them over the roof.

The stairs were littered with women's hats and shoes.

Died Upon Reaching Pure Air. Many of the gassed, who physicians said experienced similar conditions to gas attacks in the World War, were carried out alive, only to die when the pure air of outdoors or oxygen artificially administered at hospitals failed to rid their lungs of the poison fumes.

"Believe it or not," said Frank Killrain, one of the scores of taxicab drivers who worked incessantly carrying victims throughout the afternoon. "As soon as they hit the air they turned green."

Five Burned to Death in Cabin

Cornish, N. H., May 16 (P).—Five persons, two mothers and three children, were dead today and a 15-year-old boy, a would-be rescuer, was in a critical condition after a fire swept through a one-room cabin home here yesterday. Kerosene used to start a fire was believed to have caused the tragedy.

The dead: Mrs. William Gibson, 20; her year-old daughter, Elizabeth Anne; Mrs. William Talbot, 29, and her children, Pauline, 7, and William, Jr., 3. Robert Fecteau, 15, a brother of Mrs. Talbot, was dying at the Claremont General Hospital.

Young Fecteau, the only witness, told authorities a short time after his sister and her children had gone to visit the Gibson family, which lived a short distance from the Talbots. Running to the building, he entered and tried to drag his sister outside but his clothing caught fire and he was forced to drop her.

A kerosene can found in the ruins was the only clue to the probable cause of the fire.

Chicken Coop Housed a Still

For the second time within a year Woodland Villa, operated at present by Max Sanderowicz, has been visited by the federal prohibition agents.

The Villa is located on Pasquale Road, Spring Valley, and on June 25, 1928, a "crutzing" plant was raided on the premises.

Wednesday evening the agents on entering the premises found in a chicken coop a 600 gallon still. Sanderowicz claimed he had leased the place for a laundry and knew nothing of the still. The chimney was very cleverly hidden from view. Several hundred chickens were running about the place.

Some 200 gallons of product in the process of manufacture was seized as well as about that quantity of finished product. There were several hundred gallons of mash. Two arrests were made. Both men refused to give their names and were lodged in the New City jail and arraigned today before U. S. Commissioner Flannery at Beacon. The raid was made by officers from the Kingston office.

Repairs on Exporter's Boat. Paris, May 16 (P).—The experts of all the creditor nations met late this afternoon to consider the German reparations settlement conditions and the draft of the report which will be made to the interested governments.

Negligence Action Graf Zeppelin on Way to Lakehurst Sent to Jury

Action Brought By Mrs. Grace Rieseley Against William Jacoff Growing Out of Auto Collision Sent to Jury at Noon.

The action brought by Mrs. Grace Rieseley against William Jacoff was continued in Supreme court this morning when witnesses for defendant testified. The driver of the taxi-cab whose car was struck by the Rieseley car as it was coming over the Highmount road testified that on the way up the hill his car stalled and he stopped to fix the gas line. He parked his car on the right of the road with the car headed up the road and was in the act of breaking the gasoline to clean it when his car was struck by the Rieseley car. He testified that one of his fares had left the car but three of the others were in the car when it was struck. The cab was damaged about the rear housing and had to be towed from the scene.

Another taxi driver who was spending the summer at Fleischmanns was called. He testified he was proceeding up the hill in his car when he saw the cab stalled at the side of the road with the rear portion about four feet on the highway and the front off to the right. The cab was not parallel to the road. The Rieseley car came over the hill at a fair rate of speed and skidded into the cab. The witness said he saw the Rieseley car turn over and strike the pole but he did not go to the assistance of the people pinned in the car but went to the driver of the taxi and asked him for permission to take the occupants of the cab to their destination. He secured the four fares and went on to Fleischmanns without stopping to aid the injured people or talk to them.

He gave his name to the driver of the Jacoff cab before he left. Later he came back with his wife and examined tracks on the road which he said indicated skidding. His wife testified the Rieseley car had skidded in an "S" direction to the left and back to the right and then again to the left and struck the cab and then ran over to the right and tipped over. The skidding commenced 50 to 60 feet away from the point of contact.

An investigator from the office of the defendant's attorney was called and testified he had notified the occupants of the cab to be in court and they had promised to come without being subpoenaed but later they had not come and he had inquired and been informed that one was ill, two were unable to leave their business and another was out of town attending a mother who was ill in Philadelphia. There was no effort made to serve them and produce them in court as they had promised to come willingly.

The case was summed up and sent to the jury at noon.

Testimony on Wednesday. Continuing the action for negligence brought by Mrs. Grace Rieseley against William Jacoff, several witnesses were sworn in Supreme court Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Rieseley, wife of Joseph Rieseley, in company with her husband, two sons, Mrs. Belle Stryker and three small children were proceeding east over Highmount in July, 1927, when it is alleged a taxicab blocked the road as their Buick car came over the crest of the hill and as the Buick approached, the taxi backed up and came directly in front of the car.

Mr. Rieseley, who was driving, struck the taxi and caused his car to swerve to the right of the road and strike a bank. A telephone pole which had been involved in an accident the previous day toppled over on the Buick car as it turned over against the bank. Several of the passengers were injured and Mrs. Rieseley sustained a fracture of the collar-bone and numerous bruises.

Mr. Rieseley, who was driving, testified that he was proceeding about 15 miles an hour over the hill and as he came over the top of the hill and entered on the down grade he saw the cab in the road. It was standing still with the rear end about in the center of the road. When about 40 feet away the car suddenly backed up. He sounded his horn and applied his brakes but the roadway was wet and he was traveling on a down grade and his car could not be stopped. He hit the cab and then ran over to the side of the road and his car tipped over in the ditch.

Elizabethton in Danger as Water Main Is Dynamited

Trucks Sent to Bring 1,000 Gallons of Water for Drinking Purposes From Johnson City, Eleven Miles Away—Guardsmen Arrest 100 Strike Pickets.

Elizabethton, Tenn., May 16 (P).—An explosion of dynamite early today severed the water main serving Elizabethton and the American Bemberg and the American Glatzstoff rayon plants, and shortly afterward George Crow, identified by Sheriff J. J. Moreland as the man who warned him last night the main would be dynamited, was arrested.

The point where the main was dynamited is about three miles from Elizabethton.

The rayon plants are equipped with an emergency auxiliary water system, and plant officials said operations, resumed a week ago with a limited force of non-union workers, would not be hindered.

National guardsmen used tear gas bombs to effect the arrest of approximately 100 men and women textile mill strikers who had collected on a highway over which workers were being taken to the American Glatzstoff and Bamburg rayon plants today.

The demonstrations and arrests occurred three hours after the water main serving this city and the mills had been dynamited. The bombs were used after stones were alleged to have been thrown at buses and automobiles in which employees of the mills were riding. Those arrested were herded into the court house here.

Elizabethton was without drinking water for a time. Trucks were sent to Johnson City, eleven miles away, for one thousand gallons for drinking purposes.

Walter Gungan, vice president of the water company, said the line would be repaired by tonight and that the greatest danger today was the possibility for a fire. In this event, he said, the town would be helpless.

Adjutant General Boyd, who directed the arrest of the picketers, said they would not be released until "properly dealt with by law." In Tennessee, he said, the law permits picketing but not intimidation and blocking the highways.

8 Section Hands Hurt in Wreck

Campbell, N. Y., May 15 (P).—At least eight section hands were rushed to hospitals in Bath and Corning, several probably fatally injured, after sixteen cars of an east-bound Delaware, Lackawanna and Western freight train left the track directly in front of the station here today and crashed into a tool house, burying the workers under a mass of wreckage.

Several of the injured were burned when the shattered building took fire, which spread to the demolished freight cars.

From twelve to fourteen section hands were sheltering themselves in the building, the station operator reported, and all were injured. Arthur Dioble of Elmira, was the conductor in charge of the freight. A broken truck is believed to have been the cause of the derailment.

Both tracks were blocked by the blazing freight cars.

Congress Hopes For Vacation

Washington, May 16 (P).—Hopes for a summer vacation for most members of Congress were raised today by the progress made in negotiations to avert the threatened controversy between the Senate and House over the former's right to initiate export decontrol legislation in the farm relief bill.

The outcome apparently rested with the Republican Steering Committee of the House, which was called by the Senate with the disputed decontrol section in it or sent back on the ground that only the House has the constitutional right to initiate such legislation.

The spring food sale was also mentioned.

A request was made that all donate as many garden and wild flowers as possible on Decoration Day for the children to place on the soldiers' graves. They will be called for at the school.

The report of the nominating committee was confirmed, and all

By The Associated Press. Washington—The annual savings to the American people because prohibition is placed at $5,999,999, 999 by Deane Pickens, secretary of the Federal Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals; half of it is direct liquor cost, half indirect saving due to increasing efficiency.

Philadelphia—In the words of Mabel Willebrandt, women who set standards of social entertaining without liquor are rendering that sportswomanly allegiance to the President that true patriotism dictates. She so wrote to the conference of the American Women of Pennsylvania.

Newport, England—Maybe he'll give some to Ambassador Dawes. Stanley Baldwin has enough pipes to last him if he lives to be as old as Methusalem. He so informed a campaign audience here. He has received two dozen more as gifts in the last few days.

Princeton, N. J.—Seniors at Princeton have voted the member of the class most likely to succeed is John D. Rockefeller, 3d.

Rio Janeiro—Up goes the price of an 111-carat rose diamond found in the state of Minas Gerais. It was sold by the prospector for $10,000 and resold for $40,000. An offer of $50,000 has been refused. Estimates are that when cut it will weigh 19 carats and be worth $300,000.

Detmold, Germany—The latest glider record is more than 60 miles. Robert Kronfeld of Vienna, taking off in his motorless plane at Riesenbeck, flew 100 kilometers in something over five hours. He won a prize of $1,200.

Regardless of Price

Government figures show the gain of Lucky Strike to be greater than the combined increase of all other cigarettes. The public will be served and this is proof, indeed, that regardless of price, you actually get more in Lucky Strike than any other cigarette can offer. Its perfect blend of fine tobaccos gives pure smoking delight. Its exclusive, secret toasting process guarantees the tobaccos free from irritants and impurities and, in the opinion of 20,679* physicians, makes Lucky Strike less irritating than other cigarettes.

Salt's Real Value

Some authorities believe that while man might live without the addition of salt to food he would soon experience a disqualification to eat many vegetables rich in food value, such as potatoes. The use of salt tends to enable us to utilize a more varied selection of foods.

HEMORRHOID SUFFERERS

Read this remarkable

PROMINENT SPECIALISTS PRESCRIBE YODINA DISCOVERY

The above double guarantee is published so that every reader of this paper who suffers from any form of hemorrhoids will positively give the Yodina Treatment a trial.

Relief in 5 Minutes

No matter how bad, nor how long you have had piles, hemorrhoids or rectal ulcers—quick, safe, certain relief is now assured by this discovery of a New York specialist, Dr. H. H. Lutz.

The Yodina pile treatment has already been used extensively in the famous Lindlar Sanitarium, as well as in the other well known health institutions. The results from Yodina certainly must be unusually good if so many doctors write in its praise. Dr. Oscar Lee of Washington, for instance, calls Yodina "a remarkable treatment for patients afflicted with all manner of hemorrhoids—internal, protruding, itching, etc.—with quick results."

Hemorrhoids Dry Up

Dr. A. W. Herz of Cleveland, and formerly physician, Battle Creek Sanitarium, says, "Yodina suppositories are the best I have ever used. They seem to dry up the piles. And they are perfectly harmless. Even though you have bleeding hemorrhoids, insert one suppository at bedtime and you will feel much better in the morning."

The London Health Center and other internationally known health institutions lead Yodina.

Don't wait. Try Yodina—it is soothing, healing and in time will help abolish all forms of piles. It induces comfort and a normal condition.

CLIP THIS AS A REMINDER

Take this to Dr. Lutz's local representatives given below. Leave $1 as deposit in full payment of a Yodina treatment. If, however, Yodina does not bring desired results, bring back partly used package and get your deposit back. Mail orders filled. 298 Wall St. Telephone 1308.

FASTER... FASTER...

FOREIGN visitors are amazed at the speed of American life. No leisurely gait for most of us. There's always a multitude of social and business things to do—with precious little time in which to do them. This is especially true in the Empire State, with nearly 12 million people. Nowhere in the world is swift, dependable telephone service more essential.

New Yorkers may justly feel proud that their telephone service sets a standard for the world. Not merely good service—but one that gets better all the time.

Take speed, for instance. Today, out-of-town calls go through in one-quarter the time it took five years ago—only 1.7 minutes, on the average, now. And local calls are a matter of seconds.

In other phases too, clearness, convenience and dependability—the service has made distinct advances year by year and month by month.

Yet good as it is today, it cannot rest there. Telephone service must and will improve continuously, so that it will always meet the needs of New York's telephone users.

EVANGELIST MUIR AT GRAPEVILLE CHURCH

Large interest is being shown in the interdenominational revival campaign now being held in the Grapeville Baptist Church under the leadership of Evangelist T. LeRoy Muir of Rosbury, N. Y. The Rev. Mr. Muir, who is known as "The Man in White", has conducted large campaigns across the continent, broadcasted to thousands over the radio, is founder of the Storm King Bible Conference at Cornwall-on-Hudson and is well liked as a Christian worker.

Delegations from many villages and towns are already attending the revival. One delegation of 30 people came 50 miles last week. On Sunday the church was packed to the doors and on Sunday night at the first altar call nearly the whole audience "went forward". Many are making their first profession of Christianity.

On Saturday night of this week Evangelist Muir will preach on "Modern Amusements or the Sins of Society", and on Sunday at 11, 2:30 and 7:30. At the Sunday afternoon service the subject will be "Americanism or When Chickens Come Home to Roost" and only men will be admitted to the church auditorium. Mrs. Floyd Van Valkenburg will speak to women only at the same hour in the Baptist parsonage. All services of the revival which closes on May 26 are on standard time and a cordial invitation is extended to all who may care to attend.

Contrasts Remain An Important Factor in Being Smart

New York.—Dipping hemlines show no sign of straightening themselves out. Now that Paris has taken to placing the fulness at the back, the skirt seems more inclined than ever to drop at the point. Skirts, at all points are slightly longer than in the past season. While there is a marked effort on the part of fashion to be consistent, as for instance to wear a flaring frock with a flaring frock, it often follows that straight lines are maintained in the coat, no matter how much of a flare occurs in the frock. An ensemble is often assembled, not by the maker but by the woman who shops cleverly, choosing her coat in one place and perhaps her frock in another. Linings, which at the inception of the ensemble played such an important role, are now omitted altogether in some cases, and seemingly ignored. Naturally, one should not wear a printed

To be ladylike isn't enough for a dress of this year of grace. It must be interesting as well and the more irregular the interest the better, like the pleats on a Lucile Paray frock made of printed crepe de chine. It has the new draped collar. Rita lining with a dress of a conflicting print, but the lining is often incidental and in many cases, even when silk is the media of which the ensemble is fashioned, is omitted altogether.

So generally in use has the jacket and matching coat become that it almost seems curious to see a woman without either a coat or jacket. There are cleverly evolved coat-dresses to be worn with or without fur pieces. One of the most popular versions of this type of dress, is made on redingote lines, with a soft front jabot.

Woolens in delicate texture, and in delicate tones have not been discarded. In every well balanced wardrobe there should be such a dress. Check woolens are much in favor for suits.

IDEAS FOR THE DYE-WISE
PRIZE LETTER FROM MESOPOTAMIA, OHIO

"No Dye to Compare with Sunset"

Says Mrs. Chandler

"Having a peach colored linen dress to darken, I obtained Navy Blue Sunset Dye, but made the solution weak as I desired a lighter shade than Navy. It came just what I wanted. I still wear the dress and it has been laundered all winter."

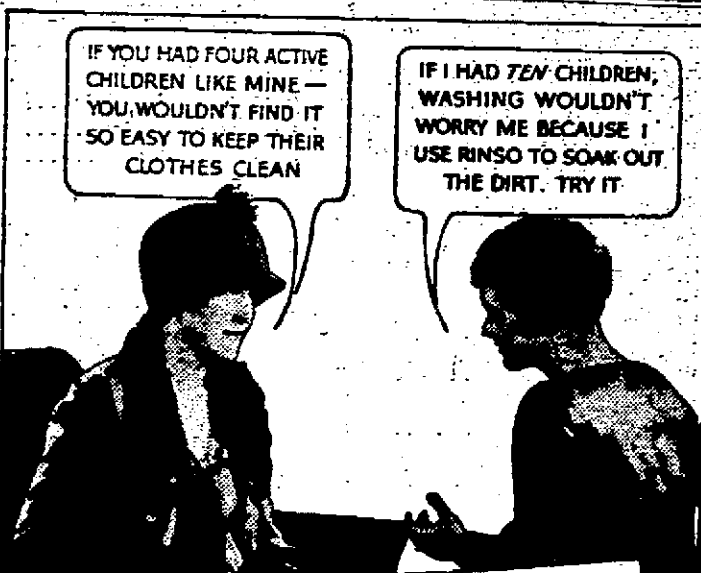

"Delighted with my first Sunset experience, I dyed a flat silk crepe of soft blue and white with tiny checks of black. I used Old Blue Sunset making the dye bath stronger than called for in order to cover the black thread. It came out darker than Old Blue, a smooth, even color."

I dyed a light gray figured wool dress, simply darkened it about two shades with Gray Sunset, and it looks like new material. "I dyed a heavy, white wool sweater using Dark Brown Dye, and the result was perfect. My latest venture was a tan silk dress, the bottom heavily embroidered. I used Black Dye, and the result is highly satisfactory, a perfect black with a beautiful lustre."

I have never found any dye that compares with Sunset. They give maximum results with minimum labor, are so clean and free from discoloration of the hands, utensils, pressing board, etc., they are a joy to use, directions are so simple yet comprehensive."—Mrs. J. S. Chandler, Mesopotamia, Ohio.

For fast dyeing use Sunset Soap Dyes, 15 cents a cake. For beautiful tinting use Dyetime, wonderful new tint in a big box, 10 cents.

THE GRANULATED SOAP—
Rinso

in tub or washer...for a whiter 'no-work' wash

(Thousands write us letters like this)
"No boiling needed," says Mrs. C. Locke, 175 Tremper Ave.
"I learned about Rinso from a neighbor. She found me scrubbing one day and said, 'You must enjoy scrubbing clothes, or else you'd let Rinso soak out the dirt.' I thought she was exaggerating, but I tried Rinso anyway—and my! what a surprise. All the dirt and stains seemed to float right off and my wash was the whitest ever! And it's great the way Rinso saves the clothes, now that they don't need to be scrubbed or boiled."
MRS. CHAS. LOCKE, 175 Tremper Ave., Kingston, N.Y.
Thickest suds you ever saw!
Dirt soaks right out in creamy Rinso suds. Clothes rinse the whitest white imaginable. Rinso is a compact, granulated soap. One cupful gives more suds—does more washing—than two cupfuls of lightweight, puffed-up soaps. The makers of 36 leading washers say, "Use Rinso." It's all you need—no bar soaps, chips or powders. Two sizes—most women buy the BIG package.

Fine Floors

BEAUTIFUL floors add more than any other single detail to the charm of the home. They furnish a perfect background for rugs, when the floors are of wood. They are attractive and easily cleaned when of linoleum, varnished or waxed. Often a floor that looks hopeless at first sight may be smoothed and refinished so that it presents a fine, rich appearance. Different types of interiors require different floor finishes. If you have a home that is adapted to the simple early American type of furniture you may paint your floors, if you like, or you may stain them a dark, rich walnut or mahogany. Your hardware dealer can suggest the correct type of finish for your floor. There are so many fillers, lacquers, varnishes and stains that the most unattractive flooring may be rejuvenated and made beautiful. Floor wax, diligently applied keeps the floor smooth and lustreous in finish once it has been put in order. Special mops and brushes, to apply wax, and oils, simplify this task.

MEYERLING LEGEND IS STILL ARGUED

New Version of Austrian Tragedy Talked Of.

Berlin.—Seemingly the legend of Meyerling will not die. It has been four decades since Crown Prince Rudolf of Austria and his mistress, the seventeen-year-old Baroness Marie Vetsera, were found dead in Meyerling chateau near Vienna. That they killed themselves has been fairly well established; nevertheless the legend that they were murdered continues to grow and to find credulous audiences.

There are at least four popular "solutions of the crime" at present in circulation. One has it that a simple woodman or peasant killed the pair, but the motive varies with the narrator. Another substitutes an outraged kinsman of Marie for the woodman. A third contends that Rudolf shot his mistress and then himself in the midst of a drunken revelry. Number four, employing vengeance as the motive, was a few weeks ago, upon the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of the tragedy, given new life by a usually conservative Berlin newspaper.

Biography Differs.

The journal published what were represented as authentic documents supporting the theory that the fiance of the young baroness was the "murderer." According to this version, he broke into the chamber where she and the crown prince were sleeping and without preliminary formalities fired the shot which disposed of his alleged rival in love. Thereupon Marie unhesitatingly took her own life.

Critics of this "solution," however, assert that Marie was not engaged to be married, although it was understood at the time that she was soon to be betrothed to Duke Miguel of Breganza. Moreover, they point with considerable satisfaction to the biography of the crown prince, published a few months ago, which was written by Baron von Mitis, erstwhile keeper of the royal archives of Austria. The biography is said to contain documentary evidence which makes it impossible to accept any but the suicide theory.

Among these documents are several farewell letters which Rudolf and Marie addressed to their relatives and friends shortly before the occurrence, and all of these strongly suggest that the couple was contemplating self-destruction. To her mother the baroness wrote: "We are already very curious to see what the other world is like," while to her beloved intended, Duke Miguel, she bequeathed her treasured fur neckpiece, which in a mockingly cheerful note she asked him to hang on his canopied bed as a tribute to her memory.

It was on January 28, 1889, that Crown Prince Rudolf, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Prince Philipp of Coburg, and by Count Hoyos, drove out to Meyerling ostensibly for a few days of shooting. Rudolf, however, excused himself from the dogout, pleading a bad cold. The following evening he dined alone with Count Hoyos and retired early, commanding his man servant, Loschek, to awaken him for breakfast at 7:30 in the morning.

Both Found Dead.

When the next morning the prince failed to respond to Loschek's repeated knocking, Prince Philipp and Hoyos were summoned and they broke in the locked door of Rudolf's chamber. On the bed Rudolf and Marie lay dead, each with a bullet wound in the right temple. In his right hand, the index finger still tightly gripping the trigger, Rudolf held a revolver, which when broken open was found to contain two empty cartridges. Near his left hand lay a mirror, which he apparently had used in taking aim.

During the night of the 30th of January the body of the prince was removed to the imperial palace. The following night, under even more remarkable circumstances, the body of the baroness was taken out of Meyerling. Wrapped in a fur mantle, it was placed in a sitting position in a cab between two uncles of the girl, and the cab was then driven off with unusual haste to the private burial ground of a religious order. And there, without ceremony, without benefit of clergy and under the cover of night, a shallow grave was hurriedly dug and into this mean trench was lowered all that remained mortal of the baroness.

Complying with the legal forms of the day, a protocol concerning the burial was drawn up by the two kinsmen. This read: "Within the communal precincts of Meyerling was found a female corpse with a bullet wound in the head, which was recognized by the undersigned witnesses, Count Stoeckau and Herr Baltazi (the uncles of the girl) as that of Baroness Marie Vetsera, and they buried it in the Holy Cross."

Stockholm Bridal Couples Prefer Church Weddings

Stockholm.—Church weddings, with solemn, music and candle light are preferred by Stockholm couples to the more pompous and colorful civil ceremony. According to the city statistical office only 1,006 of 4,573 marriages were performed by the city magistrate in 1928, a decline in number of some 60 ceremonies, as compared to the year before.

Fish-Oil Ice Cream

Ice cream made from fish oil, snow and sugar recently was an unexpected winter dish of Eskimos of Alaska. The odor was strong but the dish is said to have tasted better than it smells. Eskimos caught great numbers of eulachon, a species of smelt which is sometimes called the candlefish because it contains so much oil. These they placed in holes lined with heated rocks, and after the fish were cooked they were placed in covered baskets on which the women trod with bare feet to extract the oil. During cold weather the oil has much the consistency of butter. To make the ice cream, the oil was melted and sugar and snow were added, then stirred in.

Why Borah Couldn't Come

The Golden Book recounts the story of how Mrs. William Borah, wife of the senator, arrived alone at a diplomatic breakfast in Washington during the late days of the Coolidge administration when the Kellie anti-war treaty was still in process of negotiation. Asked by Secretary of State Kellogg what had become of her husband, the gentle and literal Mrs. Borah replied:

"He said that if you asked for him, Mr. Kellogg, I was to say that he is at home working on your d—d treaty."

Engraving in Wood

It was not until the end of the Eighteenth century that an English engraver, Thomas Bewick, developed the modern method of cutting in wood with a burin, a pencil-length instrument with a fine point which could be easily guided and which was so shaped as to cut away the wood surface just as a plowshare turns up the earth.—Golden Book.

Find Havana 'Tunnels'

Ancient Wine Cellars Havana.—A network of tunnels discovered recently under the ancient municipal building here and first believed to be catacombs or at least secret passages for the olden time Spanish padron, are, says the public works department, only old wine cellars.

Historians claim that Havana at one time was underlaid with a maze of tunnels connecting the many churches and convents with the waterfront. The purpose was to afford means of escape to priests and nuns who guarded immensely rich religious treasures.

Memorial Armory To House Reunion Of Confederates

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, May 16 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets).

South Carolina new crop potato prices slumped further on the local wholesale district today. Supplies are increasing and the demand was rather slow. A large percentage of the offerings were small or poorly graded in consequence sales ranged widely. Barrels of No. 1 cobbles jobbed out at $4.25-4.75 on the best and $3.50-4.00 on the poorer.

Not only was the acreage of early potatoes in nine southern states reduced about one-third from last year's plantings, but the average yield per acre may be 10 per cent less than in 1928. The commercial crop in this group of states from Virginia to Georgia and westward to Texas, is forecast at only 20,065,000 bushels compared with 32,739,000 last spring.

Virginia, the Carolinas and other leading states all show marked reductions which should place early potatoes in a much more favorable position than a year ago. Virginia likely will have one-third fewer potatoes than in 1928; North Carolina and Louisiana a little more than half of last season's commercial crop; and South Carolina only about half of its 1928 production. Alabama expects less than half as many potatoes as last spring, and California's early crop may be only one-third that of a year ago.

The condition of the early crop in all states on May 1 averaged 83 per cent of normal, the same as this time last season. The crops in Alabama South Carolina declined during late April, but improvement was noted in Texas, Mississippi and elsewhere. The highest condition figures were reported for Virginia, Maryland and New Jersey. The poorest appeared to be in Louisiana and Alabama.

The demand for cauliflower has lessened and although receipts were moderate from the Pacific coast, prices declined in a sluggish market. Crates of nice and 15 heads from California peddled mainly at $1.00. Oregon offerings brought $1.25-1.50.

Arrivals of Florida celery were moderate. The market was without decided change and values remained about steady. The demand was confined to medium and large stock. Small received scant attention. Celery in the rough, washed and pre-cooled, packed in crates of three, four and six dozen stalks, wholesaled at $2.50-3.50, but crates of eight and ten dozen stalks brought $1.50-2.75.

Florida this season to May 11 shipped 8,423 carloads of celery, against 7,744 for the same period last season.

U. S. POPULATION GROWS RAPIDLY

Census Head Expects It to Reach 120,000,000 Next Year.

Washington.—The population of the United States is now increasing at the rate of about 1,400,000 persons a year, or about one person every 25 seconds, according to William M. Stewart, director of the census bureau of the Department of Commerce, who recently outlined the scope of the work to be done in taking the 1930 census.

"The total increase," said Mr. Stewart, "is made up of the annual excess of births over deaths, which amounts to an additional 240,000 per year. By 1930 the population will be more than thirty times as great as it was in 1790, and nearly twice what it was in 1890, or only 40 years ago."

The census figure for 1790 was 3,929,214 and for 1890 the total population was 62,947,714. The census taking in 1920 showed a population of 106,710,000. The census bureau has made an estimate of population on July 1, 1927, as 120,710,000.

Census Knowledge an Asset.

"History records no other instance in which the population has increased so rapidly," said Mr. Stewart. "Furthermore, there has been no other nation in which the increase in population has been accompanied by such improvement in the comfort and well being of the people. As a statistician, I believe this advancement has been due in no small degree to the definite knowledge we have of our production, our resources, our facilities for transportation, and our population as expressed in current statistics."

It required 13 months to take the first United States census in 1790. In taking the 1920 census the director will be required in one month to enumerate more than 120,000,000 people.

"The 4,000,000 people who lived in the United States in 1790," said Mr. Stewart, "occupied a territory of 868,000 square miles, there being 4.5 persons for each square mile of territory. The present area of continental United States is 3,717,000 square miles and the average population per square mile in 1920 will be more than forty, or nearly ten times the earlier average."

"In 1790 there were in the United States only six cities having as many as 5,000 inhabitants. The population of these cities formed a little more than 3 per cent of the total population of the country. In 1920 there were 204 such cities and their population was nearly 44 per cent of the total."

Including the population of smaller cities down to those with 2,500 inhabitants, the urban population of the United States in 1920 formed a little more than half of the total and the rural a little less than half, while the farm population taken alone formed less than 30 per cent.

A Nation of Cities.

"It appears, therefore, that we are becoming more and more a nation of cities. But there are strong factors operating against this tendency. One of the most potent of these is the automobile. You may be obliged to work in a city, but if you own a car you can readily live out in the more spacious regions of hollyhocks, roses and vegetable gardens."

"There are some who prophesy that by reason of this growth of suburban residential areas, the 1930 census will not show the usual increase in the proportion of urban population."

The first census recorded only the name of the head of the family and the number of persons in the family, distributed into four or five groups, or classes. The family of John Hancock, for example, was reported as comprising two white males over sixteen years of age, three white females and seven other free persons, not white, who were presumably negro servants.

There are about 3,100 counties, 17,000 incorporated cities, boroughs and villages, ranging in size all the way from the little village of Dering Harbor, N. Y., which at the last census could boast of a total of three inhabitants, to the great metropolises of New York, Chicago and Philadelphia.

Drugs and Cut Flowers

The effect of aspirin and forty-three other chemicals when placed in water containing cut flowers was tried by two botanists in a series of tests, and they report that these substances do not aid in increasing the life of cut flowers.

Admit They Don't Like Women Smokers

Syracuse, N. Y.—A few side-lights on students of Syracuse university were revealed recently by the results of questionnaires circulated among them by Prof. Julian D. Corrington of the zoology department.

Of the 53 college men taking the test, 30 admitted falling in and out of love at random, 57 said they were cracked, 44 devoted cantaloupe sans seasoning, and 51 are "agin" the present-day usurpation of gentlemen's smoking rights by women.

The professor said he gave the tests not as a psychological experiment but as a means of discovering variations of thought among the students. They were allowed three seconds in which to answer each question.

Ginkgo Tree Only One That Has No Enemies

Only one species of plant life now growing in the United States is without an enemy trying to take its life. Dr. William A. Taylor, chief of the bureau of plant industry, reported to the house appropriations committee during hearings in Washington.

"This unloathed tree is the Japanese ginkgo tree," Doctor Taylor stated. "So far as we know this tree has no insect or fungus enemy at the present time."

On a driveway leading to the United States Department of Agriculture buildings the street is lined on both sides with the ginkgo trees. In the fall they present a striking appearance, for as the yellow leaves fall they heap up on the sidewalks like piles of gold.

The ginkgo tree has a fruit, but one which the white man scorns. The nut inside is rather tasty, but as Doctor Taylor said, "it is surrounded by a most abominable smelling and tasting pulp. It smells more like salt-rising bread in the process of fermentation than any other thing. Chinese laundrymen pick up the fruits, take them home, clean them and eat the kernels."—Kansas City Star's Science Service.

One Thing Certain

Some questions will forever remain unsolved. A back East physician once told a colored woman who had called to consult him in regard to an ailment, that her vitality was much run down. "Suppose," said he, brightly, using one of Doctor Holmes' questions for the purpose, "you were packed in a barrel of snow. How much of it could you melt?" The lady shivered. "Ah, dunno," she replied fervently, "an' what's mo', Ah ain't never goin' to find out."—Portland Oregonian.

To remove slight dents in wood place moist blotting paper over the dent and then apply heat by placing a warm iron on the blotter. The heat and the moisture cause the fiber of wood to swell and the dent fills up.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 16 (AP).—The stock market turned completely around today, breaking sharply at the opening when the call money renewal rate was fixed at 14 per cent and then rallying in spectacular fashion when the money rate dropped to 10 and loans were offered in the outside market as low as 5 per cent.

The wide fluctuations in money rates aroused widespread criticism among brokers and stock traders, who were at a loss to understand why 14 per cent should be charged on loans at 10:20 a. m. and then have funds go begging less than two hours later at 10 per cent.

Mendelssohn Hailed as Master of Philosophy

As a Jewish philosopher acting the part of a pioneer, Mendelssohn brought about the understanding of the beauty and humanism of the Bible, says a writer in the Boston Herald. He prepared a basis for the development of science and Judaism. His translation of the Pentateuch had inaugurated a new era in the education of the German Jews.

He gave to his brethren the German Bible, by which means he introduced them to the intellectual life of Germany, and thus through it once more into the civilization of the world at large. Mendelssohn has united Jewish and Hebraic life. He was the first to advocate the emancipation of the Jews. By his writings he contributed to a great degree to the removal of the brutal prejudices against the German Jews.

Mendelssohn died on January 4, 1786, and was deeply mourned, not only by his contemporaries, but also by all the learned world. His memory was celebrated as that of a "Sage like Socrates." The greatest philosophers of the day exclaimed: "There was but one Mendelssohn."

London Blast Invented
Designed for travel through the depths of the Arctic regions, a special boat is thought to have been perfected by a German engineer. It is shaped similar to a giant shell, is of heavy armor steel, and is propelled by wind-pressure turbines. The inventor believes that when it comes to being used in the Arctic regions, it will be the most perfect.

THE ROAD OF OTHER MEN

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

OH, WHAT road shall we travel, friend,
What highway shall we choose,
That has contentment at the end,
Whatever else we lose?
Well, I would say, it's not the high road,
It's just a trail, it's just a byroad,
A road so rough, a path so lowly,
That those who travel travel slowly.

You'll try a dozen roads that wind,
And then the right road miss;
For all your life you'll never find
A better road than this:
A road that has some roses by it,
A cottage, not a castle, night,
No stormy heights, some vale or hollow
Where Christ is easiest to follow.

Oh, what road shall we journey then
The joy of life to see?
We'll walk the road of other men,
Of men like you and me—
Some fellows who are worth the knowing.
Going the same way we are going,
The happiest road in any weather,
The road that mortals walk together.

Why We Do What We Do

By M. E. THOMSON, Ph. D.

INTERESTED IN DREAMS

PEOPLE have always been interested in dreams. From time immemorial dreams have played an important part in the life of the individual and the race. The destiny of nations has hinged on the interpretation of some dream. Joseph's interpretation of Pharaoh's dream is typical.

The dream is a curious phenomenon. Why is it that a sleeping person can do such wonderful things in so many possible and impossible connections? He goes out hunting with some friend who lives many miles away or who is actually dead. The savage was mystified and looked upon the dream as a means of separating the soul from the body. He thought that during sleep the soul of the sleeper went on excursions with other souls or spirits. He believed that when he awoke it meant that his spirit was through wandering and had come back to the body. He carried the idea to its logical conclusion in the belief that when some one died it simply meant that the spirit was unable to find the body; hence he placed food and weapons beside the corpse to be used in case the spirit should return.

Since the spirit of a man could talk in dreams to other spirits the savage assumed that these communications were significant as to the future of the dreamer.

The Freudians have a good deal to say about dreams. They tell us that dreams are very important, not so much in predicting the future as in shedding valuable light on the present and past; that the strong fears and wishes which we suppress in the waking moments come to light in dreams. They claim that every dream is important in revealing some hidden wish, that every detail of the dream has some meaning.

Whether with the savage we regard the dream as a means of foretelling future events, or with the Freudians as revealing hidden wishes and fears, or with the psychologist who says the dream is merely disconnected brain activity during sleep, the dream remains an interesting phenomenon of nature. We cannot help but be interested in dreams just as we are naturally attracted by the weird fantasy of a novel or any work of fiction. It is a fascinating pastime for the imagination.

There is a plan working in our lives; and if we keep our hearts quiet and our eyes open, it will work together; and if we don't, it will fight together, and goes on fighting till it comes right, somehow, somehow.

Ancients Enrolled in Art of Glass Staining

The medieval artists in stained glass told like jewelers setting diamonds and rubies. Their ideal was not a pretty picture made transparent, but a window made beautiful. Years of experimenting with various combinations of glass taught them secrets of design which resulted in windows that have never been surpassed.

Glass staining and glass painting are two quite different things. One method is to build up a mosaic of pieces of glass, colored not only on its surface but its very substance. The other is to paint the design upon white or colored glass.

It was in glass making that the ancients excelled. The blue of sea shells was so vibrant that the workers ground down supplies to obtain their magic color. The fancy, although popular, is probably fallacious. Nevertheless, the colors of the ancients were so expertly compounded that they blended into a uniform whole in a completed window and never appeared flat or "raw."

The greens, for example, were not a straight mixture of blue and yellow, but a combination of blue and red and yellow in such proportions that they did not fuse into adjoining blues at a distance as do modern blue-and-yellow greens. The reds likewise were distinctive, as they contained alternating layers of red, and green-white gave a mellow softness to light before it reached the eye of the beholder.

"Love-Bird" Really Parrot
The term "love-bird" is a name of several species of parrots or parakeets that are of Africa and South America.
The "love-bird" has been given on account of the popular belief that a pair shows remarkable affection for each other. They have been raised in captivity.

Official Pig Driver Out
Officers that have been in existence for 300 years are being abolished by Aberdeen, England, in cutting down its salary list. By purchase the city council has acquired the rights of the lord of the manor, and abolished the men paid to the official pig driver, town crier, ale taster, bread wright,
scavenger and bell ringer.

Kerosene Lamp Started a Fire

Some clothes hung in the hallway near a stand on which stood a lighted kerosene lamp caught fire from the lamp shortly after 10 o'clock Wednesday evening, causing an alarm of fire to be turned in from Box 82, to which the fire department responded. The fire was located in the two-story frame apartment house owned and occupied by Mrs. Dora MacNaught, and also occupied by three other families. The fire was soon extinguished. Two coats that caught fire filled the hallway with smoke but the damage to the house was slight.

Last British Invasion French Practical Joke?

The last invasion of England by an armed enemy force was on February 22, 1797, when a French army of 1,400 men, under General Tate, landed at Fishguard with an idea apparently of conquering Wales. The whole affair proved farcical. Lord Cawdor hastily gathered together the local militia, and hundreds of women, dressed in the national costume, red mantles and beaver hats, accompanied their men folk, whereupon the invaders, concluding that large reinforcements had reached Fishguard, hastened to make unconditional surrender. Tate was an American, many of his officers were Irish, and more than half his men were convicts released to help to equip the expedition. There were not wanting critics, who declared that the French government had planned the whole affair with the sole idea of getting 1,400 incorrigible ruffians boarded and lodged at the expense of the British.

Great Forests on Pacific

Nowhere in the world are there such magnificent forests as those found along the immediate coast north of San Francisco, says the American Tree association. West of the Cascade and coast ranges the mild climate, heavy rainfall and generally humid atmospheric conditions have resulted in the production of a forest that is more wonderful in the density of its growth and the majesty of its development than is to be found anywhere else. The sequoias of California are the giants of the vegetable kingdom. The Douglas firs, Sitka spruces and the giant arbutus vitae (western red cedars) of Oregon and Washington are second in size only to the sequoias.

Fatal Superstition

The superstition about anything being done on a Friday led to a woman's death at Leicester, England, recently. She was taken ill on a Friday, but refused, because of the superstition, to see a doctor until Sat-

Hercules Drubs Manhattan; Now Tied for Lead

Thirteen batters of the Hercules baseball team went to bat in the fourth inning of their game with the Manhattan Wednesday evening at the Athletic Field and nine of them registered runs, which were more than sufficient to submerge the shirt cutters. The final score was 15-2. Peterson, with two doubles, was the hero of the rally.

Joe Dulin also contributed a two-bagger, coming at a time when the bases were filled. A. Mauer hit two singles during the rally.

The victory put the Hercules in a tie for first place in the Industrial League. It was the third straight defeat for Manhattan, who have yet to win a game.

Ken Best was the winning pitcher. He held the shirt cutters scoreless for the four innings he worked. Chick Mauer relieved him in the fifth and allowed two runs and one hit.

Straley was credited with the loss. Although he allowed eight hits the short while he pitched errors were a big reason for his downfall. Twelve misplays were chalked against the shirt cutters. Ed Stauble took Straley's place in the fourth inning and finished the game.

Manhattan threatened to score in the first inning, filling the bases, but could not produce the necessary walk-off. Hercules scored one in the second and two in the third, then they went on a rampage in the fourth.

Peterson fouled off about five flies before he connected with one for a double to start the merry-go-round. Six more hits and five errors figured in the scoring. Avery, Ken Best and Hercules were on the bags when Joe Dulin hit his two-bagger.

Dawkins' double, a passed ball and a fielder's choice netted Manhattan its first run in the fifth. E. Stauble managed to score another one in the last inning. He was given a free pass, took second on an error, advanced to third on a fielder's choice and crossed the rubber on a passed ball.

SIDELINERS.

Jimmy Geary and L. Stauble couldn't seem to hold the ball, Geary erring four times and Stauble three.

Hercules have now won two games easily and look like a strong outfit.

Twenty batters in all went out by way of the strikeout route.

The score:

Game Tonight.

The K. & M. Schillings and P. O. Apollo combinations meet at 6:15 this evening at the Athletic Field. Tommy Davitt will try to pitch the Po-Los to a game in the win column, as they have lost their first two starts, but he will find strong opposition in Pete Komosa or Ken Williams, who will try to keep their slate clean.

Red Sox Will Play Saugerties

Bill MacDaniels' Red Sox will travel to Saugerties Sunday where they will meet the Bushwicks of that place. The latter club is known as a strong aggregation of ball players so the Kingston team figures on a hard battle for Sunday. The game will get underway at 2:15 p. m.

The Bushwicks have been practicing for the game every evening the past three weeks. It is said, so in order to take up his Red Sox, Bill MacDaniels will put the team through a practice session this evening at the Fair Grounds. This will start at 6 o'clock.

Prelling will do the pitching for the Saugerties Bushwicks. He is known as one of the strongest hurl-

West New York Team to Play Pan-Ams Sunday

The West New York Red Sox will be the opponents of the Pan-Ams Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Saugerties road diamond. This game should be a real fast one for the West New Yorkers are a snappy outfit and the oilmen are now in prime form.

It is costing the management of the Pan-Ams plenty to bring the Sox here, but it is figured that the amount expended will not have been spent in vain because of the brand of ball played by the New York nine. Local fans know the calibre of the down-river team, so it would be useless to explain their ability on the diamond. The West New York Red Sox played in Kingston against the Centrals and Colonials and always showed up well.

The Pan-Ams will be ready to step at a fast pace Sunday. They are getting into tip-top form in nightly practices and how to take the bacon from the Sox Sunday. Undoubtedly a crowd of local rooters will be on hand to see the game, which will greatly please the oilmen's handlers, who are making every effort to bring the best teams to their diamond.

Kingston Again Has Easy Time Beating Liberty

Kingston High School varsity baseball handed Liberty High School another defeat, 13 to 2, Wednesday afternoon in a seven inning game at the Fair Grounds. The Kingston boys pounded the ball all over the lot. They collected 14 hits from Fisk, who surrendered the mound to Mauer in the fifth inning. It was from Fisk's delivery that Fuchsle hit his homer in the fourth with Pretzsch on. The Liberty boys found Thomas for three hits out of which two men crossed the plate, one in the fourth and another in the fifth. The locals had their big inning in the fourth, when nine runs were added to their six run advantage.

The Liberty boys made a number of misplays. In the third inning when Kingston staged their first rally, three of the visitors' nine errors were committed. Dashew on short had five errors chalked up against him. Mauer in left played in very close. It seemed his idea was to back up Dashew.

Kingston Scores.

Merrill, first man to bat in the third, pounded a liner down to Dashew on short. Spevack also lined one to Dashew but the short stop couldn't field the ball fast enough to get Merrill going to second, which resulted in two men on. Pretzsch drove one on the ground over second base and Merrill went home. Then Fuchsle clouted one down through short for a hit and Spevack trotted home. "Herb" Clarke came to the plate and bounced a liner down to Dashew, who fumbled the second ball of the inning. To make things worse Pretzsch went home on his error. Cullum hit to third, LaBourse fumbled it and Fuchsle went home. Minasian now came through with a clean single to center and Clarke and Cullum scored. Saunders hit to short and while he was being thrown out at first, Minasian tallied. Thomas fanned but Merrill made up for this with a single to right but with two outs and Spevack striking out Merrill died on base.

Fisk was having a tough time of it. Three errors were committed behind him. Four hits yielding seven runs looked rather one-sided. Kingston let four hits go to waste. They gathered two in the first and two in the second. In each inning a man got as far as third base but they failed to score.

Fuchsle Hits Homer.

Pretzsch reached first safe after the second baseman had committed an error. "Bill" Fuchsle came to bat and on the third ball pitched to him poled a long high one over the left field fence. It was a beautiful hit and the first homer at the grounds this season. He and Pretzsch both galloped home slowly.

Two of the nine runs had already been scored but with the hits of Minasian, Thomas, Jones, Merrill and Clarke which were all singles the other seven runs crossed the plate this inning.

Remarks.

The Kingston boys are a bunch of sluggers. It takes a good pitcher to hold them.

Last Saturday Mauer got two triples but he didn't even get as much as a single from Thomas.

Merrill, Fuchsle, Minasian and Jones did the outstanding hitting in this game.

Coach Kias used thirteen men but the unlucky number didn't mean anything in this game.

Kingston plays Poughkeepsie Saturday at the Bridge City. Each team has won two DUSO League games. This battle may decide the pennant winner.

Tagging Major League Bases

By William J. Chipman, Associated Press Sports Writer

John McGraw didn't know what a break he was getting when the Giants put him to bed. After ten pleasantly idle afternoons, he discovered yesterday that he got well too soon. Back at his customary haunt within the Polo Grounds, the Giant chief again saw the frolicsome Reds slip away with the last remains of a two-game series by a score of 12 to 2. If that Pittsburgh business gave him chills and fever, the least he can expect now is to be an invalid for life.

Red Lucas had all to do with the size of the New York score, which could have been even smaller had the occasion demanded, but the top-heavy total for the Cincinnati expedition was the handiwork of a pair of green campaigners. Joseph Stripp, recently from Columbus, outraged Frederick Fitzsimmons with two home runs while Evar Swanson from the Pacific slope contained himself with one.

Fitzsimmons left the proceedings flat at the end of the eighth, and the Reds welcomed Joe Genewich with a real merry-go-round in the ninth. Five solid hits produced four decorative runs, removing any slight doubt remaining regarding the outcome. This defeat showed the Giants down to a point from which General McGraw could shake hands with any of Wilbert Robinson's cave dwellers without rising from his chair. Of course one may say that the standing of the clubs means nothing at this stage of the fight but that won't continue to be the case through the rest of the summer.

The victory of the Reds gave the Rhineland invaders two straight at the Polo Grounds, and left the Giants nursing just three small victories and seven bumps on the jaw for their stand at home against the west. One also entered into the record. The oldest inhabitant can hardly remember when the troops of the little Napoleon made a more unsuccessful defense of their home fortifications.

With Dazy Vance III, Glenn Wright on his way home and Burleigh Grimes in the box for Pittsburgh, the Robins found a perfect setting for their eighth straight defeat. Babe Herman's thoughtless homer off Grimes in the fifth with two Robins on base tied the score at 4 to 4. But the Pirates soon regained command to win eventually by 9 to 4.

While all of this petty brawling was going on about the metropolis, the Cubs were tommyhawing the Braves by 7 to 4 at Boston and the Cards were punching the Phils by 4 to 1. These two contending forces thus remained on even terms at the head of the National League parade, with hand-to-hand fighting between themselves apparently the only remedy left to pry them apart.

The Yankees and the Athletics wound up their respective campaigns in the west with much the same result—a defeat for each—and remained in a close grapple for the lead. The Macks head the champions by half a game, but the Browns are only one full game from the top, in a virtual tie with the amazing Tigers.

Harry Hellmann butted himself into insensibility against a ball held in the iron paw of Mickey Cochrane in the ninth inning at Detroit yesterday, but conscious or unconscious, sprawled across the plate with the winning run. The score became valid when Mr. Cochrane, properly amazed at such tactics, let go of the ball after the umpire had called Hellmann out. This queer antic won for the Tigers by 6 to 5 giving them two out of three in the Philadelphia series.

The Yankees put the Indians to no such extreme in the finale at Cleveland, contending themselves with Lou Gehrig's eighth home run as the tribe pounded George Pipgras and three other Yank slabsmen to win by 7 to 1. Joe Shaute twisted the champions into knots with some smart southpaw shoots.

The Browns shaded the Senators

Clermonts to Play Kandy Kids

The Clermonts and Koenig Kandy Kids, who played a 2-2 five inning game at Hasbrouck Park last Sunday, will meet on the diamond again this week end, when both teams will put forth their best to capture the first of a series of games.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock is the time scheduled for the tilt, which will be witnessed by one of the greatest gatherings of fans ever to turn out at Hasbrouck Park, it is said.

The Clermonts will hold a stiff practice this evening at Hasbrouck Park in preparation for the Sunday battle. Every member of the team is asked to be on hand. Every minute of practice that can be had is needed says Manager Ertelt, of the Clermonts, who is out to trim the Kandy Kids and do it in big league style.

Ertelt has signed two new pitchers; Les Canutt, former Kingston High School hurler and a boxman well known about this vicinity, and "Smoky" Jones of Esopus. The latter is said to be twirler of much ability, and will give the Kandy men plenty to swing at if he be called upon. The regular Clermont hurlers will be in fine shape for Sunday. They include Jack Dunn, who hurled a good game against the Koenigs last Sunday, and "Babe" Sinaspaugh.

Manager Dick Williams says that his Koenigs will be in mid-season form when they march on field Sunday. His infield and outergarden performers will be ready to give best support to a collection of gladiators that Williams figures will be to toes a winning brand of Williams has the following mound men to depend upon: Tommy Law, Dewey Van Buren, Lefty Williams and Nick Huber.

A. S. Reynolds to Enjoy Vacation

During His Absence Reynolds Realty Company Will Be Conducted By August Pfeiffer—Will "See America First."

Arthur S. Reynolds, who for the past nine years has been engaged in the real estate business in this city, and who for some time has occupied offices at 14 Main Street in the Eagle Hotel building, will leave town shortly for an extended vacation by automobile which will take him to the Pacific coast. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Reynolds. After over 20 years in the real estate business Mr. Reynolds has decided to take a vacation and "see America first." His trip will take him to California and other points in the west.

During the absence of Mr. Reynolds the business of the Reynolds Realty Company will be continued at the offices in the Eagle Hotel building by August Pfeiffer, who for a number of years has conducted a very successful real estate and insurance business in New York City. Mr. Pfeiffer will make Kingston his home, having purchased a fine residence property at 109 Washington Avenue. Actual management of the business was taken over by Mr. Pfeiffer on May 15 and the occasion was celebrated by a dinner at the Brasserie Lipp. Mr. Reynolds' many friends and clients in the city and county remembered him on that day with many pretty bouquets and potted plants.

Although Mr. Reynolds has been engaged in the real estate and insurance business for over twenty years it was not until about nine years ago that he located in Kingston. During the time he has been in business in Kingston he has confined his activities principally to city and Ulster county properties and has earned for himself a reputation for honesty and square dealings which has brought clients back to him year after year. During the absence of Mr. Reynolds which will be of an indefinite period the business will be continued by Mr. Pfeiffer in the same manner as by Mr. Reynolds in the past.

Food Sale (Saturday). A food sale will be held at the Rose & Gorman store on North Front Street Saturday, beginning at 1 p.m., by the Flatbush Reformed Church.
